

A 3x3 grid of nine apples, each with a different color and texture, representing various image formats. The apples are arranged in a 3x3 grid, with each apple having a unique color and texture. The colors range from bright red to yellow-green, with some apples showing a mix of colors. The textures vary from smooth to slightly rough or mottled. The apples are set against a white background, and the grid is framed by a thin black border.